~~Metacognition & Self-Regulation in MOOCs ...~~

Self-regulated learning (SRL) is one of the domains of self-regulation, and is aligned most closely with educational aims.

Broadly speaking, it refers to learning that is guided by metacognition (thinking about one's thinking), strategic action (planning, monitoring, regulate learning, learners must be able to make choices and, within relatively wide limits, to act on their choices.

Without such latitude of behavior, learning is other-regulated rather than self-regulated.

Agency is the common term used to describe this capacity to choose and act on choices.
