Europe, in the late 1800 ' s, was starting for a land grab in the African continent. Around 1878, most of Africa was unexplored, but by 1914, most of Africa, with the lucky exception of Liberia and Ethiopia, was carved up between European powers. There were countless motivations that spurred the European powers to carve Africa, like economical, political, and socio-cultural, and there were countless attitudes towards this expansion into Africa, some of approval and some of condemnation.
