Whos Your Caddy Looping For

The conceit of being a caddy is used to great effect since the caddy is the closest person to a player when he or she is on the course. Most golfers would thoroughly enjoy this book, but Reilly writes in an approachable and eminently readable fashion, so it's likely a great many non-golfers would find this book a fun read.

Get Your Mouth off My Ball! Having never caddied in my life, I needed a smallish place to start out, away from the spotlight, a podunk kind of tournament. Naturally, I chose The Masters. In front of thousands of people, in the greatest tournament in golf, I made my professional caddying debut, looping for 64-year-old Tommy Aaron, the 1973 champion.
